

SMEE

What's the matter, Captain?

CAPTAIN HOOK

Smee, this seat's hot. Oh! It's very hot! Odds, bobs, hammer and tongs, Smee – help me!

(CAPTAIN HOOK and SMEE lift the mushroom to reveal a hidden chimney.)

A chimney! Peter and the boys must be living underground!

SMEE

Listen!

(CAPTAIN HOOK and SMEE listen at the chimney.)

CAPTAIN HOOK

Call back the band!

(SMEE blows his bosun's whistle. PIRATES return.)

They say that Peter Pan's away from home. I must think! Inspire me!

JUKES

What tempo, Captain?

CAPTAIN HOOK

Tempo, tempo, tempo – a tango!

(#12 – HOOK'S TANGO begins.)

HOOK'S TANGO

JUKES: A tango! Unrip your plan, Captain!

3

HOOK:

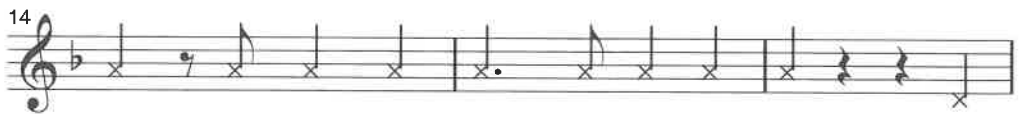

To

5

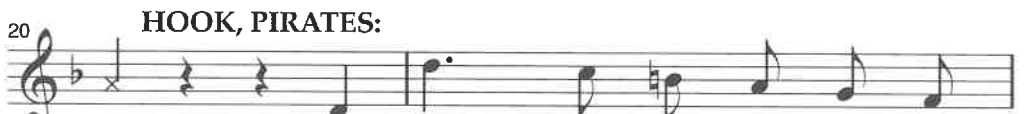

cook a cake quite large and fill each lay-er in - be - tween With ic - ing mixed with poi - son Till it

8

11
 turns a tempt - ing green. We'll place it near the 14

 house just where the boys are sure to come, And 17

 be - ing greed - y they won't care — to ques - tion such a

20 HOOK, PIRATES:
 plum. The boys who have no moth - er

22
 sweet, No one to show them their mis - take, Won't 25

 know it's dan - ger - ous to eat So parlando

27 (sung)

damp and rich a cake! And

29 PART 1:

so be - fore

PART 2:

La la la la la la la

31

the wink-ing of an eye, Those

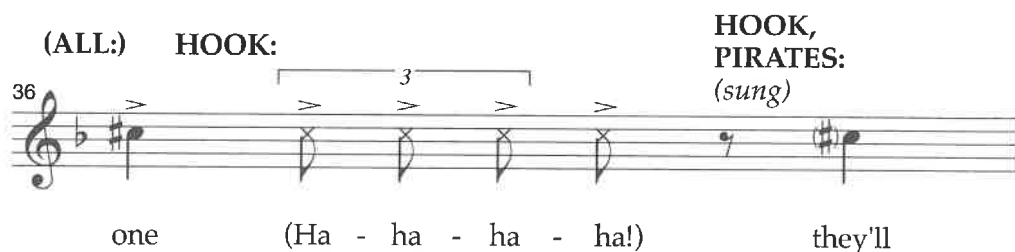

la la la la la la la

33

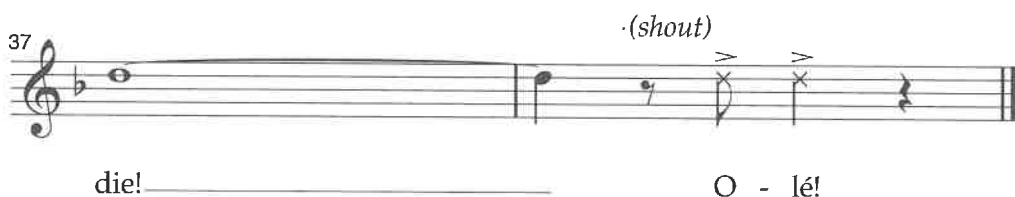

boys will eat that poi - son cake And one by la la la! And one by

(ALL:) HOOK: HOOK, PIRATES: (sung)

one (Ha - ha - ha - ha!) they'll die! O - lé!

PIRATES

Bravo! Encore! A marvelous plan! (etc.)

CAPTAIN HOOK

Horrid little boys, their time has come.

(#13 – CROCODILE MUSIC begins. The PIRATES are celebrating when a ticking begins.)

(CAPTAIN HOOK)

The croc! The croc!

SMEE

How do you know?

CAPTAIN HOOK

I hear him ticking. Protect me, Smeel! Protect me! Ohh!

(CAPTAIN HOOK faints into the arms of the two nearest PIRATES and is dragged off.)

SMEE

(following)

Don't leave me, Captain! Don't leave me!

(A CROCODILE passes across the stage, ticking, and oozes after them. The LOST BOYS emerge.)

SLIGHTLY

They're gone.